BURYING DEAD IN TRENCHES

NEW OUTBURST OF FLAMES CHECKED; FERRY HOUSE MAY NOW BE SAVED

SAN FRANCISCO, April 21.—With the smoke of the burning debris of the devastated city hanging like a pall in the air, the burial of the dead began to-day.

The bodies, many of them unidentified, are being laid in trenches. This precaution has become absolutely necessary because of the fear of pestilence.

The fire is now again under control, it is thought, but its spread will depend upon the wind. This is the second time the conflagration has been checked. It is now believed that the Ferry Building, which had been menaced, will be saved. The destruction of this would have shut off all egress from the city.

Galveston, CHEER San Francisco;
 Baltimore, Predict Future
 Charleston, Prosperity for SISTER CITY

All Have Passed Through Similar Calamities and Have Recovered Former Standing in the Nation.

Cardinal Gibbons, Dr. Lyman Abbott and the Mayors of Galveston, Baltimore and Charleston to-day expressed through the press their sympathy for stricken San Francisco and their belief in its quick recovery from the awful blow.

Galveston, Baltimore and Charleston have all been devastated by fire, earthquake and tidal wave in recent years, and from the heads of their respective governments come words of cheer to their stricken sister city.

BY CARDINAL GIBBONS.

As Chicago and Baltimore have risen from their ashes more beautiful and substantial than before, so, with God's inspiration, the new city of San Francisco will surpass the old city through the energy of her own people and through the co-operation of her fellow-citizens throughout the country.

By E. CELAY TYMANUS, Mayor of Baltimore.

The American spirit triumphs over the greatest catastrophe. Baltimore and Chicago arose from their ashes. Galveston is a new and better city. Baltimore is to-day, two years after its great fire, in better shape than ever before in its history.

"God work in a mysterious way, his wonders to perform." San Francisco

In several instances soldiers, seeing persons beyond aid and suffering in the flames, have shot them to death to put an end to their miseries.

Many thieves have been shot or bayoneted by troops.

A pestilence of smallpox and typhoid now threatens the 200,000 homeless persons. General Funston sent official warning of this danger.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—Dispatches received to-day at the Treasury Department say:

"All San Francisco banking houses destroyed. None destroyed in Oakland. Sub-treasury roof caved in. Vaults apparently intact, but blocked with debris.

(Signed)

JULIUS JACOBS, Assistant Treasurer, United States."

The above message disposes of the rumor that Jacobs lost his life in the fire.

"All business houses and banks in San Francisco destroyed. Fragment of residence portion remaining, but fire continues. Probably considerable time before safe to resume business there. Oakland center for business. Large part of State is preparing to handle it. Banks here (Oakland) good condition.

"Telegraphic transfer great help. Courage people good. Will carry out your instructions.

(Signed)

"P. E. BOWLES, President of the First National Bank, Oakland.

and other California towns now in ruins will be rebuilt promptly, and will be better, bigger and greater than ever.

By H. A. LANDES, Mayor of Galveston.

Notwithstanding the great catastrophe which has just befallen the State of California, I believe by reason of the great recuperative powers of the American people and the universal bonds of sympathy, charity and assistance now prevailing in our midst between all classes that within the next three to five years former normal and even more prosperous conditions will prevail with the stricken section and people certainly if they bring to bear that pluck and energy exhibited by the "athletes" in opening up that country in "forty-nine." Our city of Galveston had a greater calamity in 1892 upon us five years since, and to-day is not only rapidly regaining, but, in many instances, has even surpassed her former place and position in the grand march for progress and supremacy.

By R. G. RHETT, Mayor of Charleston.

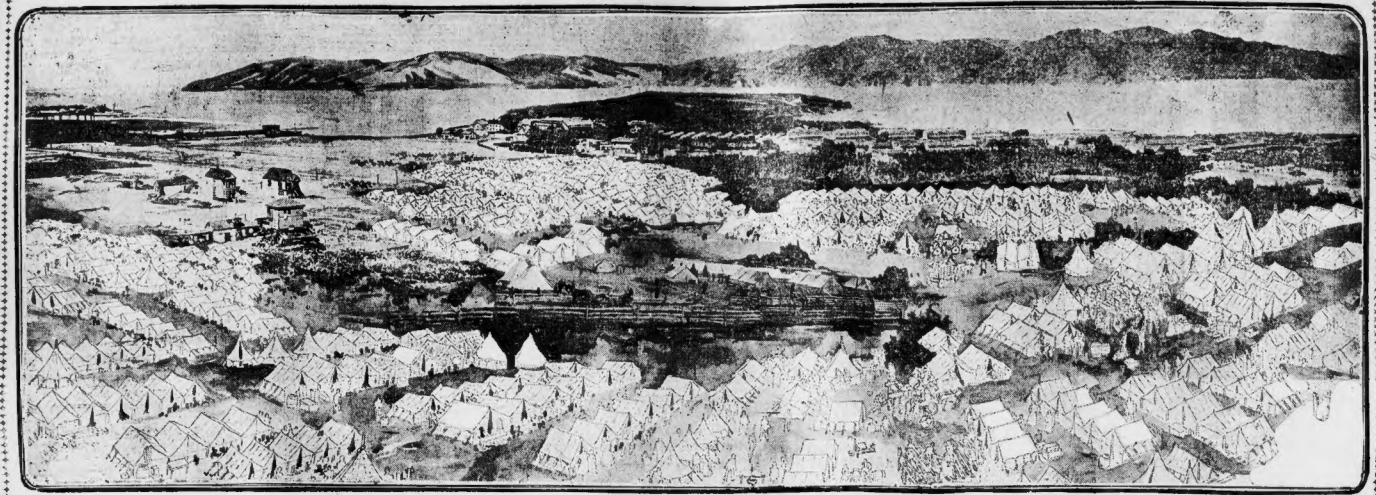

From a people who have felt the scourge of fire, the devastation of cyclone and the destruction of earthquake there goes out to the stricken people of California not only sympathy, but also a call for courage, resolve that better cities shall rise from the ashes than those that were, and it will be done, and great joy will welcome the achievement. There is silver lining to the cloud, contemplation of which will soon dispense its gloom and leave brighter sunshine than before. So it has been with us and so it will surely be with you if they take heart, which no American doubts they will.

By LYMAN ABBOTT

Copyright by S. M. P. A., N. E. A., and P. P. A. San Francisco is not destroyed. No buildings, but more make a city. The earthquake and the fire which have devastated her streets have proved the unshakable fortitude of her heroic men and women. This tragedy they will convert into the glory, for at the Golden Gate they will yet rear a fairer monument to the indomitable courage of the American people.

HELP SAN FRANCISCO!-- ATTEND THE MONSTER BENEFIT TUESDAY AFTERNOON AT BOSTON THEATRE

BURIAL OF DEAD PRESIDIO ATTENDANCES BEGINS

BIRDSEYE VIEW OF PRESIDIO AND DIAGRAM OF MILITARY PLAN OF SUFFERERS' TENT HOMES.

With Scant Ceremony the Bodies Are Thrown Into Grave and Hastily Covered for Fear of Pestilence.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 21.—San Francisco continues to-day to bury its dead. In trenches all over the city the bodies are laid and in some instances more than fifteen bodies have been placed in a single ditch. This is no time for transportation to cemeteries and to leave the dead uncovered means pestilence.

In public squares, in vacant lots, in jagged holes made by the earthquakes shocks, all that is left of the rich and poor alike is placed, most of the bodies to remain there unidentified.

Scenes of infinite pathos attend the burying of the unidentified dead. Mourners as they walk desolately through the wrecked city are men and women looking for lost, may be dead, loved ones.

In some cases they have tried to identify bodies that were taken from the ruins, only to be abashed by the awful sight of the mangled victims. Like a pall of death the black smoke curls over the city on this the beginning of the burial of the unknown dead.

SICKNESS SURE TO COME, SAYS FUNSTON

WASHINGTON, April 21.—The following message has been received from General Funston at the War Department to-day:

"It is making no progress through the west from Van Ness avenue. West wind, of considerable force, beginning. Indications are that part of the city south of Van Ness avenue and north of bay will be destroyed. Some considerable apprehension is felt as to the rest at Fort Mason, but it is believed we can save it. Weather continues fine and warm, practically no suffering from the cold."

"It will be impossible to establish proper sanitary condition; much sickness must necessarily be expected."

"If the city to the west now standing, remains intact, there are many good buildings that can be used as hospitals. The water supply is encouraging. The Spring Valley Water people believe they can deliver from 10,000,000 to 12,000,000 gallons daily. This, with other sources not mentioned, will prevent famine."

An earlier dispatch from General Funston, received at 2:50 a. m., was as follows:

"At this hour, 5:30 p. m. (Friday) hard and probably somewhat light but made to give western part of the city. Fort Mason, where army headquarters have been established, may go, but we will know in an hour. Supplies arriving and are being distributed to homeless people camped in parks, military reservations and vacant spaces. Troops, police and firemen almost exhausted by three days terrible work. Conduct of people in general has been admirable, though in some cases looting have been shot."

MANY CASUALTIES AMONG POOR.

Admiral foodstuffs had all available men from fleet and placed under my orders. Seventy cavalry under Major Benson guarding ruins of banks, where there are millions in vaults. Impossible yet to learn individuals for whom you inquire. Most casualties were in poorer districts south of Market street. Not many killed in better portion of city."

A further telegram received from General Funston this morning states that there had been no casualties as far as known among army and navy people, except Lieutenant Felle, who was seriously injured during the fire Wednesday. General Funston asked that this be cabled to Manila.

10,000 KILLED, SAYS AN ARMY OFFICER

SAN FRANCISCO, April 21.—The extent of the loss of life will never be known. The police now estimate the dead at 700. An army officer who had charge of the Mission district said last night:

"I don't want to exaggerate a situation that is already horrible enough, but it is my honest opinion that 10,000 would be near the correct figures for the dead."

"In the Mission district long rows of flats were leveled to the ground. Beneath them were scores of crushed bodies. Before the fury of rescue could be more than begun the flames came and swept through the ruins."

ALL PERISH IN LARGE APARTMENT.

"I know of one large flat housing from eighty to one hundred persons from which not one was seen to emerge. The entire building crashed into the basement and completely wrecked, that the debris scattered several above the level of the ground."

One horrible incident was witnessed by Mackenzie Gordon, the singer, from his window in the Victoria Hotel. Gordon looked out of bed as soon as the shock commenced and timed it with his watch. It lasted twenty-three seconds.

Just as the last tremor had ceased he saw a window rise in the seven-story apartment house opposite, and a naked man leaped from it. The fourth floor the man's legs, and in the fire escape and was torn out at the hip, the body falling on it.

BOSTON WOMAN GIVES $1,000, BUT KEEPS HER NAME SECRET

DOLLARS

One of the philanthropic women of Boston has given $1,000 to be added to the Hearst fund being collected by the BOSTON AMERICAN for the relief of the California sufferers.

This generous contributor does not wish her name made public. She is one of the most prominent and wealthy women of the city. Her heart has been stirred by the stories of suffering that have come from the devastated district.

Many other wealthy women of this city, which is noted for its generosity in a crisis like this, should respond to the cry for help that comes across the continent from the stricken Pacific slope.

No estimate of the number of injured can be given at this time. There are fully five thousand who have sustained wounds of more or less severity.

Five men were crushed to death Wednesday night while fighting the flames. They were caught beneath the debris of a building which collapsed. At midnight Wednesday thirty persons were imprisoned in an apartment house. The firemen cut through the walls with their axes, determined, if possible, to rescue the imprisoned people. A hole big enough to permit the passage of a man was made in the wall, and R. C. Durie, a San Francisco fireman, thrust through his arm and was assisting a young girl to safety, when the roof of the structure collapsed.

Durie escaped with his life, but the thirty imprisoned lodgers were killed. Fire Chief Sullivan, who was injured Tuesday morning, is still alive. His wife died yesterday afternoon.

EXODUS FROM THE CITY IN FULL SWAY

OAKLAND, April 21.—San Francisco's exodus is today under full sway. Hourly thousands of homeless and ruined are carried away from the crowded city, Oakland, toward all points of the compass. The railroads are giving free transportation to the out-of-bounds. This is to go as many out of the famine zone as possible.

The exodus began from Golden Gate Park, the Presidio and the North Bay shore line as soon as the word went out that it was safe to cross the burned area toward the Ferry building.

There were two great processions to the Ferry building, one down Market street, the other from the Presidio along the burning line of the North Bay. These went seaward along the water front.

Throughout these routes, eight miles long, a continuous flow of humanity dragged its weary way all night and all today and hundreds of vehicles from the churning garbage cart to the modern automobile.

Almost every person and every vehicle carried luggage. Drives of vehicles were disgraceful of these exhausted refugees, and drove straight through the streets. No detail and depleted were many of them that they were lugged aside by careless wheels or shouldered out of the way by horses.

There were persons with nearly dripping, men in bath sheets and women in undergarments and thin waists. Many had no hats. Some carried children.

The stricken thousands are pouring out of Oakland to San Francisco, San Diego and other cities in the South, anywhere to get away from the sight of the skeletal walls and smoking ruins of the city.

Oakland has so far received the greatest number of refugees, though Alameda, San Rafael, Vallejo and every other bay city is crowded. Hundreds of others walked southward on roads leading toward Martinez, Redwood City and other places on the west side of the bay.

RICH AND POOR EAT FROM SAME PLATE

SAN FRANCISCO, April 21.—Brought together by the vast calamity that has overtaken the city, thousands upon thousands of people, rich and poor, patrician and plebeian, are huddling on the common tenting ground in Golden Gate Park.

Around the flickering flames of 25,000 fire refugees from the stricken sections of the city are gathered to share relief supplies that have been provisionally rushed forward by kind hands from the outside world.

Despite the deplorable conditions that obtained last night when a cold wind sprang up to add to the suffering of the homeless, the great majority, rich and poor have accepted the situation with a philosophy born of a courage and determination to join in the stupendous task of rearing a new city.

Age and determination to join in the stupendous task of rearing a new city. The greater emphasis on the side of the poor, which has gone.

At 10 o'clock on the 20th, the great army of the homeless, through the aid of the army party would start up a rallying and marching and marching special

VOLCANOE BREAK OUT IN COLORADO

DENVER, Col., April 21.—Reports from Raton, N. M., state that Capitan Mountain, which in 1874 destroyed two villages in a volcanic outbreak, is active again. Lava pouring down its sides has driven villagers to the lowlands.

At Hot Springs, Col., the sulphur springs, which have always had heat of 90 degrees, have increased to 100, and are getting hotter. Reports from Yellowstone Park say that the Old Faithful and the Grand geysers are vomiting lava and red-hot stones and that there is every indication that they will turn into volcanoes and destroy the surrounding country.

HUNT FOR DEAD IN STRICKEN CITY

SAN FRANCISCO, April 21.—The ghostly hunt for the dead continues rapidly in the stricken city. From three places 255 mangled bodies have been removed, while wedged beneath the debris in places which it will require great labor to reach the mangled corpses of scores of others added to the number of the lost.

Many persons, who were killed in the three-story lodging house at Fifth and Mission streets, died Tuesday night, and with fifty others showing further on under the ruins.

From the ruins of the Panoplia Hotel, 200 bodies were removed Tuesday night. In the debris of the Hamilton Hotel, many bodies showed Tuesday night. In the debris of the Hamilton Hotel, many bodies showed Tuesday night.

CAVING WALL KILLS 20 SEEKING FOOD

SAN FRANCISCO, April 21.—The work of the rescuers was one of the most terrible ordeals to which any inhabitant of San Francisco has been subjected during the last few days. Wallers were on the move a few minutes and in their attempts to remove the wounded they encountered their fate. Many of the injured were not removed and were left by the level of the ground to be crushed as it fell.

Several of them died in ruins at their feet to the hospitals. At the sun it up

WASHINGTON, April 21.—Some location there was given a bad beating to yesterday's game, the Boston Americans will go into today's battle with the Senators determined to crush Jack Stahl's "orators" as hard as they know how.

Bill Dinneen will probably be the man chosen to go to the front, and give the Senators the raspberry. Bill has been out for a while, but he is back, and he is back in a big way. He is back in a big way, and he is back in a big way.
